What We Do Now

An Exciting "Instabook" From Melville House Publishing

The project is the result of a round-the-clock effort that saw Howard Dean, Donna Brazile, Greg Palast, Lewis Lapham, Nicholas Kristof and others working through the Thanksgiving holiday to write a series of passionate manifestos outlining a variety of new ideas for life in a post-11/2 world. The result is a powerful collection that also features economists, environmentalists, media critics, feminists, anti-war activists, novelists, poets and satirists writing about what to do in their key areas of expertise.

Thanks to a partnership between wheredowgo.org and Melville House Books, we are able to post excerpts from many of the outstanding essays on our website for your consideration.
